

RADIO-TÉLÉVISION DU BASSIN DU CONGO

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS FOR JOURNALIST REPORTER POSITIONS

- Reference: AC-RTBC/2526/JR01
- Unit: Editorial
- Location: Brazzaville, Republic of the Congo
- Contract duration: 12 months renewable after evaluation
- Area of activity: Media and development
- Job type: Full-time

ABOUT RADIO TÉLÉVISION DU BASSIN DU CONGO

Radio-Télévision du Bassin du Congo (RTBC) is a communication tool of the Congo Basin Climate Commission (CBCC) created to support the efforts of the Commission's member countries, in particular to improve the supply of environmental information in the Central African sub-region and beyond. RTBC aims, among other things, to address numerous challenges, including informing, educating, communicating with, and raising awareness among populations about environmental issues, starting at the local level and extending to the international level, including the national and sub-regional levels.

Furthermore, RTBC's mandate is to build and convey an innovative narrative on the natural resources of the Congo Basin, presenting them in a new light that contrasts sharply with the old perception, which tends to focus solely on the conflict surrounding these resources, around which various battles have often been fought. The aim is to build a promising marketing strategy around these riches, which offer infinite assets and provide invaluable services to humanity, playing a vital role, particularly in regulating the global climate. It should not be forgotten that the forests of the Congo Basin are a source of food and medicine for millions of people whose livelihoods depend on them.

Without being exhaustive, it should be stressed that the forests of the Congo Basin represent a great cultural asset for many communities and are home to abundant biodiversity with iconic and rare species.

Beyond promoting environmental education and engaging communities on this issue, RTBC is both a diplomatic and advocacy tool. As such, it is committed to defending the interests of the Congo Basin on the international stage, particularly with regard to climate justice and compensation for conservation efforts in this tropical forest, which has become the largest in the world in terms of its carbon sequestration capacity and ability to reduce global warming.

To play its role fully and effectively, RTBC intends to produce relevant content aligned with the challenges it has set itself. To this end, RTBC is seeking experienced journalists reporters capable of producing news and current affairs programs.

Job description

Reporting to the Editor-in-Chief, journalists will be responsible for processing information in various forms. To this end, their duties will include:

- Following current events, participating in editorial meetings, suggesting topics;
- Covering events and producing news reports, articles, and interviews with participants;
- Preparing and presenting radio and TV newscasts;
- Producing magazines, documentaries, mini-programs, educational clips, and all kinds of productions approved by management; ▪ Drafting articles and helping create content for the RTBC's digital platforms (YouTube, Facebook, Twitter [X], and LinkedIn);
- Developing program concepts to feed into the RTBC's program schedule; ▪ Conducting any other tasks requested by line management.

Qualifications and skills required

-
- Holding a BTS (associate degree) in Journalism, Communication, or any equivalent degree.
 - Having a perfect command of writing techniques applied to broadcast journalism;
 - Experience in creating radio and TV programs;
 - Ability to participate in the audit of the program schedule and make proposals for better ratings and performance;
 - Versatility and ability to produce multimedia content (radio, TV, and web);
 - Having a solid understanding of development issues and current and emerging environmental challenges, as well as relevant public policies;
 - Proficiency with audiovisual production software;
 - Proficiency in Pack Office;
 - Perfect command of the French language. Fluency in English would be an asset;
 - Proficiency in using professional web tools, including website updates and social media management (Community Management);
 - At least 4 years of previous experience in a similar position.

Required qualities

- Curiosity and creativity;
- Ability to multi-task and achieve results;
- Ability to prioritize;
- High sense of organization, rigor, and originality in work;
- Good team spirit
- Excellent people skills;
- Ability to work in a complex international environment.

Job constraints

- Working under pressure;
- Frequent travel with the possibility of long journeys, including in forest areas; ▪ Possibility of working outside regular hours and days.

Documents to be provided

- Cover letter;
- CV (two pages maximum);
- References (three people who can provide details about your background) with their contact details (email and phone numbers);
- Copy of identity document (Passport/National ID card).

How to apply

Interested parties are requested to submit all of the above-mentioned documents to the following email address: recrutement@rtbc.africa

Note: All applications must have the following subject line: Application, followed by the job title, a hyphen (-), and the applicant's full name.

Example: Application Journalist reporter - Jean Christophe

Application deadline: February 08, 2026, at 3:00 p.m. Any application received after the deadline will not be considered.